When Calliope Stores and Uses Data

Calliope does not store any data if the User does not interact with Calliope directly or unless otherwise stated. The data stored and accessed varies depending on the interaction or function of Calliope that is used. If the User interacts with Calliope in a means specified in this policy, or if the User adds Calliope to a Server, the User consents to this policy and agrees to inform the members of their Server of this policy. If the User does not agree to this policy, they should remove Calliope from their Server, or leave the Server that contains Calliope.

All Commands

When the User runs any of Calliope's commands, the following information is collected and stored temporarily to allow Calliope to function, as well as for safety, security, support, and legal purposes:

- Command used
- Command arguments
- Server ID
- Channel ID
- User ID

Server Config

Upon editing any options in the Server config, the following information will be stored:

- Discord Server ID: To associate the Discord Server with its config.
- Config Options: The options that have been set to remember what has been changed.

Data Storage

All stored data is kept on protected servers. While we make every effort to protect your data, we cannot guarantee the absolute security of data as no data storage is 100% secure. However, as outlined prior, we try to keep the data stored to a minimum, and only store data that is necessary for Calliope to function.

Modifications, Deletion of Data, and Contact

We may modify this policy when necessary to accommodate new laws or changes to Calliope and its functionality.

If you have any questions or concerns about Calliope, this policy, your data, including data deletion or requests, security reports, or anything else regarding Calliope, you can contact us via calliope@lostanddead.co.uk, or by messaging LostAndDead#0001 via Calliope's Official Discord Server (<https://discord.gg/MX9t8f856g>).
